- 85) You agree to allow us to undertake a full inspection of the property on reasonable notice and to co-operate fully with the process.

Right to Buy

- 86) You may be able to purchase your home under the Right to Buy Scheme.

(For more information see www.wolverhamptonhomes.org.uk).

Succession

- 87) The right of succession is governed by the Housing Act 1985 as amended by the Localism Act 2011. The right of succession applies only once following the death of the tenant.

- a) If the secure tenancy was granted prior to the 1st August 2013 then the following persons are qualified to succeed if they occupy the dwelling as their only or principal home at the time of the tenant's death:
- i. the tenant's spouse, including civil partner; or
 - ii. another member of the tenant's family who has lived with the tenant throughout the 12 months prior to the death of the tenant.
- b) If the secure tenancy was granted on or after 1st August 2013 then the following persons are qualified to succeed if they occupy the dwelling as their only or principal home at the time of the tenant's death:
- i. the tenant's spouse or civil partner; or
 - ii. a person who was living with the tenant as if they were the tenant's spouse or civil partner.

Where in either of (a) or (b) above, there is more than one person that fulfils the criteria set out, such one of those persons as may be agreed between them or, where there is no such agreement, as selected by us is to be treated as the tenant's spouse, civil partner or family member (Clause 87 (a) only)

- 88) We may seek possession of the dwelling where, following succession, the dwelling becomes substantially under occupied (normally 2 or more bedrooms) or the dwelling is occupied by persons who do not require use of any special adaptation or features present in the property (for example feature for disabled people). In such cases we will provide suitable alternative accommodation in accordance with our allocation policy.

- 89) Where there is no legal successor but someone is left in the property, consideration will be given to allowing that person to be given a tenancy if:
- a) Either:
 - i. that person has lived with the previous tenant for more than 10 years; and/or
 - ii. will be taking on responsibility for the previous tenant's dependents; and
 - b) The household is eligible for the property type.

General Legal

- 90) We have the right to apply for an injunction to enforce your obligations under this agreement and in serious cases we can ask the Court to attach a power of arrest or exclusion order to the injunction. Further we also have the right to take action against you in any way permitted by law in the future. We may seek Anti-Social Behaviour orders (ASBOs) in the Magistrates and County Courts to control tenants who act in an anti-social manner. We can also take action against you in relation to Housing Fraud in the Magistrates and County Court which could involve but is not limited to seeking an Unlawful Profit Order and/or prosecution for unlawfully subletting your property.
- 91) You agree that you will reimburse us for our reasonably incurred costs (including legal costs) in seeking to enforce any of the terms of this agreement, seeking possession of the property or in relation to any legal action taken as a result of anti-social behaviour caused by you, any member of your household or any visitors to your home.
- 92) We may amend this tenancy agreement in accordance with the provisions of the Housing Act 1985 or any other legislation which may be introduced in future.

Demotion Order

- 93) In cases involving anti-social behaviour, we may apply to the Court for a Demotion Order. A Demotion Order demotes a secure tenancy to a demoted tenancy for an initial period of one year. We will usually give you four weeks' notice of our intention to apply for a Demotion Order but can apply to Court for permission to dispense with any notice in serious cases. The notice will tell you why we are applying for a Demotion Order and the statutory basis for doing so.

Terminating the Tenancy

The tenancy can only be terminated in one of the following ways:

- 94) Notice by you. This must be in writing and signed by you (or a recognised mark) giving a minimum of 4 weeks' notice to expire on a Monday. Keys must be returned and receipt obtained before 12 noon on the Monday the notice expires.
- a) You must give vacant possession and must not leave any belongings, furniture, carpets or rubbish inside or outside the dwelling. You agree that we may dispose of any items left in or about the dwelling when the tenancy ends. We will charge you for this and you agree to pay. If any such items are sold, we may deduct, from the proceeds of sale, any unpaid rent or charges in respect of the tenancy and any costs incurred by us in clearing the dwelling and gardens and disposing of items left in or about the dwelling.
 - b) You agree to pay us in full for any costs incurred in removal and disposal of any goods or belongings left in the property including but not limited to sales fees.
 - c) You will be charged and agree to pay for repair costs of any deliberate or reckless damage that was your responsibility as the tenant (e.g. damage to doors). This includes deliberate damage or reckless damage caused by anyone living with, visiting you or pets. If you are transferring to another Council tenancy the state of the current dwelling could delay or even prevent the move.
 - d) During the 4 week notice period, where requested to do so and provided reasonable notice is given, you will allow us access to inspect the condition of the dwelling ready for re-letting.
 - e) Where there is more than one tenant then you are jointly and severally responsible for complying with all of the tenancy obligations, including the payment of rent. Where one of the joint tenants serves a notice to quit, giving at least 4 weeks' notice, then the whole tenancy will end. We will make a decision as to whether the remaining person can be granted a new tenancy of that dwelling or whether we will take action to gain possession of the dwelling. Until this decision is made or possession granted by the County Court a charge for use and occupation will be made.

(For more information see www.wolverhamptonhomes.org.uk).

- 95) On the order of the Court after we have served a Notice of Seeking Possession upon you setting out one or more grounds for possession which apply to your secure tenancy. These grounds include, but are not limited to, the grounds contained within schedule 2 of the Housing Act 1985 or any ground for possession which in future applies to secure tenancies. We then apply to the Court which may make a possession order if it considers it reasonable to do so.

- 96) On expiry of a notice to quit given by us to you (including the personal representatives of a deceased tenant) at any time when the tenancy is not a secure tenancy.

Service of Notices

- 97) The method of service by us of notices of seeking possession, notices to quit and notices of possession proceedings will be by hand or first class post at the last known address. If it cannot be served personally then it will be posted through the letterbox or attached to the door.
- 98) This tenancy agreement shall incorporate the provisions as to Notices contained in s.196 of the Law of Property Act 1925 as amended by the Recorded Delivery Service Act 1962 and shall apply also to the service of any Notice to Quit.
- 99) Any notices should be served by you, on us as Landlord, at your managing agents address.
